

Join the movement empowering people with financial and health education that creates positive lasting change.

empowermentToday is a grassroots 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization empowering low-income people who are committed to enhancing their financial literacy and health awareness. Our program involves focused education and building community partnerships across the country.

empowermentToday empowers people by providing vital and effective financial literacy and health awareness workshops for adults and adolescents.

Our vision is to help everyone in America empower themselves to become healthy and financially secure.

We Must All Work Together To Create Positive Lasting Change!

For our vision to become a reality, we must all work together—Volunteers, Participants, Donors, Partner Organizations and empowermentToday.

Join Our Empowered Community Today!

Connect us to local organizations in your community that can host workshops. Help bring the education where it is needed most.

Inspire people by becoming a volunteer instructor for our participation-oriented financial literacy and health awareness workshops.

Enhance our mission by supporting our staff remotely via the internet.

Give to keep the costs of workshops affordable to the very people who can't afford to keep missing out on this vital education.

Share our vision with friends, family and your community via the internet and by posting fliers in local community areas.

Empower yourself by participating in a workshop offered in your community.
